Ahmed Hussien Etiwa · 2026

Welcome to the chronicle of a wild, semi-feral concept artist trapped in the body of a meticulous civil engineer.

Step inside, mind the ink stains, and enjoy the ride!

Artist · RACE: Human

Character Name: Ahmed Hussien Etiwa

By day, I calculate rebar, measure concrete, and battle the ancient laws of structural integrity. But by night (and whenever my hands escape the blueprint desk), I trade load-bearing beams for ink, heavy armor, and high-contrast dramatic lighting.

Legend has it that this book contains:

- 80% Pure Creative Chaos: Dragons, armored champions, rogue wanderers, and dynamic poses that somehow defy gravity better than my engineering blueprints ever could.
- 15% Coffee & Dark Fantasy Ambience: The fuel powering every stroke, sharp edge, and Jen Zee-esque rim light.
- 5% Mechanical Precision: Because even a mythical beast needs solid anatomy to stay standing.

Consider this collection proof of a dual life—where structural calculations meet absolute fantasy, and every page is handcrafted strictly for the love of the craft.

Uncharted Paths | Character Design Showcase

Maps forged in glowing ink, blades manifest from pure soul, and arrows struck from divine light.” Bringing a whole squad of unique fantasy adventurers and Character Designs to life via my interest in Hades! and the invation of it's style that got brought to life with jen Zee insight.

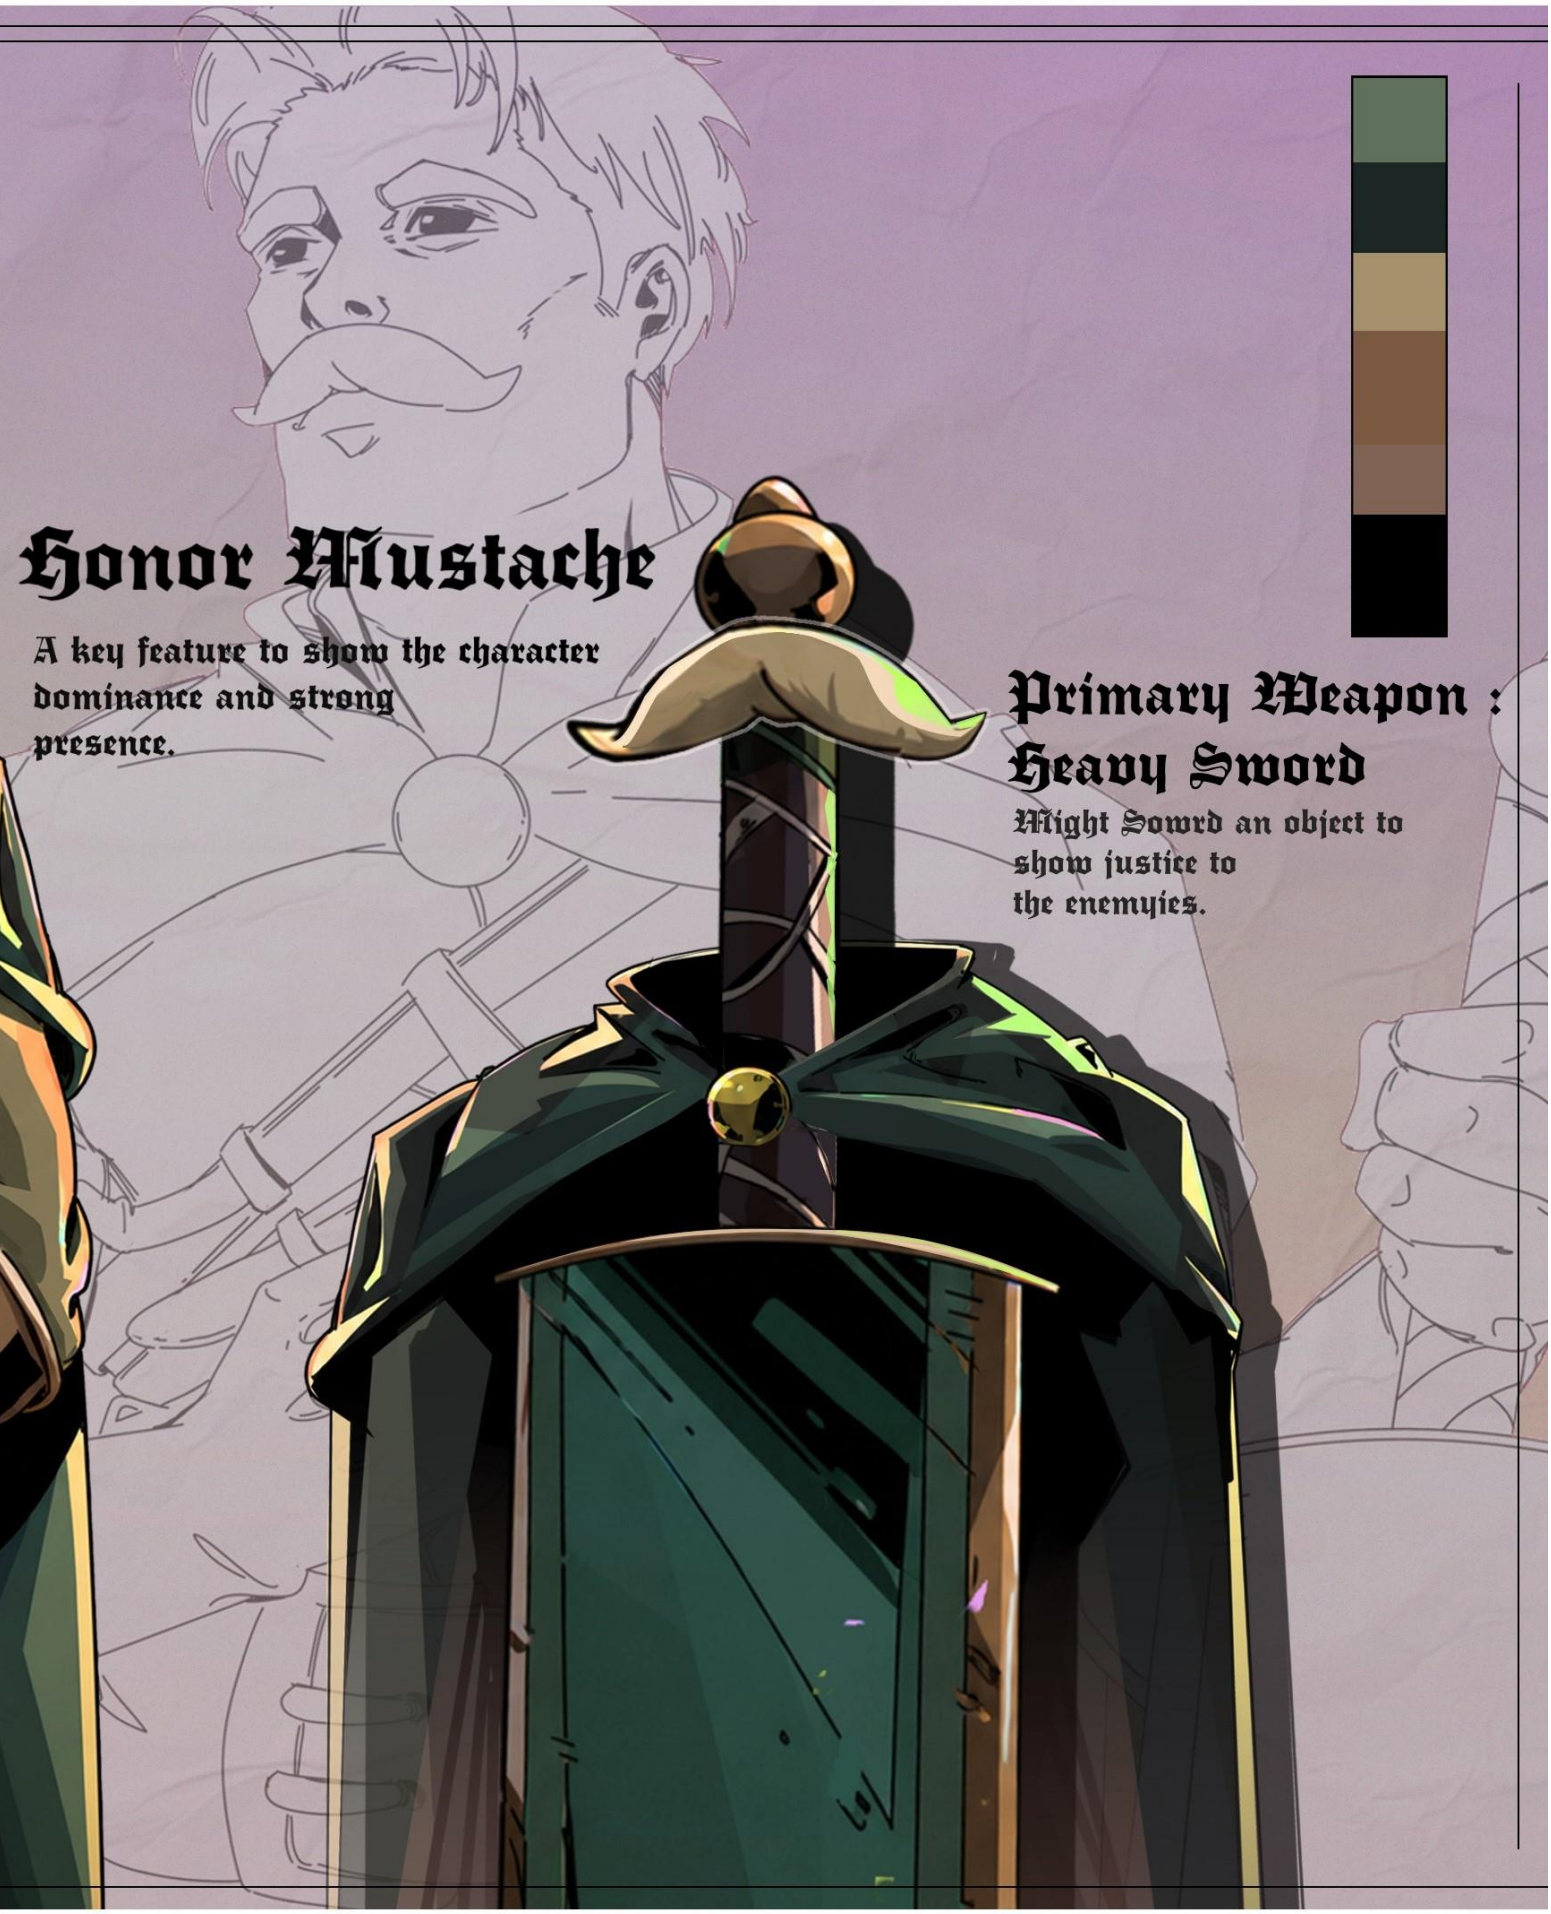

clockwork warforged scouts and psionic assassins to royal duelists and celestial marksmen, this commission set was all about contrasting materials, lighting, and personality.

Mnemosyne

I need to give you a bit of lore about the world of Lethe. Player characters in the game are called Resolvers. They travel to islands inhabited lingering shades where they perform a ritual to free the shades from their mortal regrets.

Charon

may seem like an old affable fishman but he is an immortal being that is interwoven with the fabric of the underworld. He materializes out of the mist when shades need to travel along the waterways of Hades.

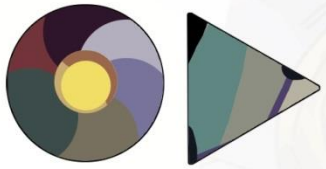

Hypatia

an important bureaucrat in Hades palace until her fall from grace. She was a capable professional, but now she is in exile and feels like her talents are being wasted. She just wants to get through her 9-5, ("not a 9-5, a 5-9... 5000-9000 years").

لقد خلقنا الله أحرارًا

Arcana Cleric · RACE: Elf

Amaya

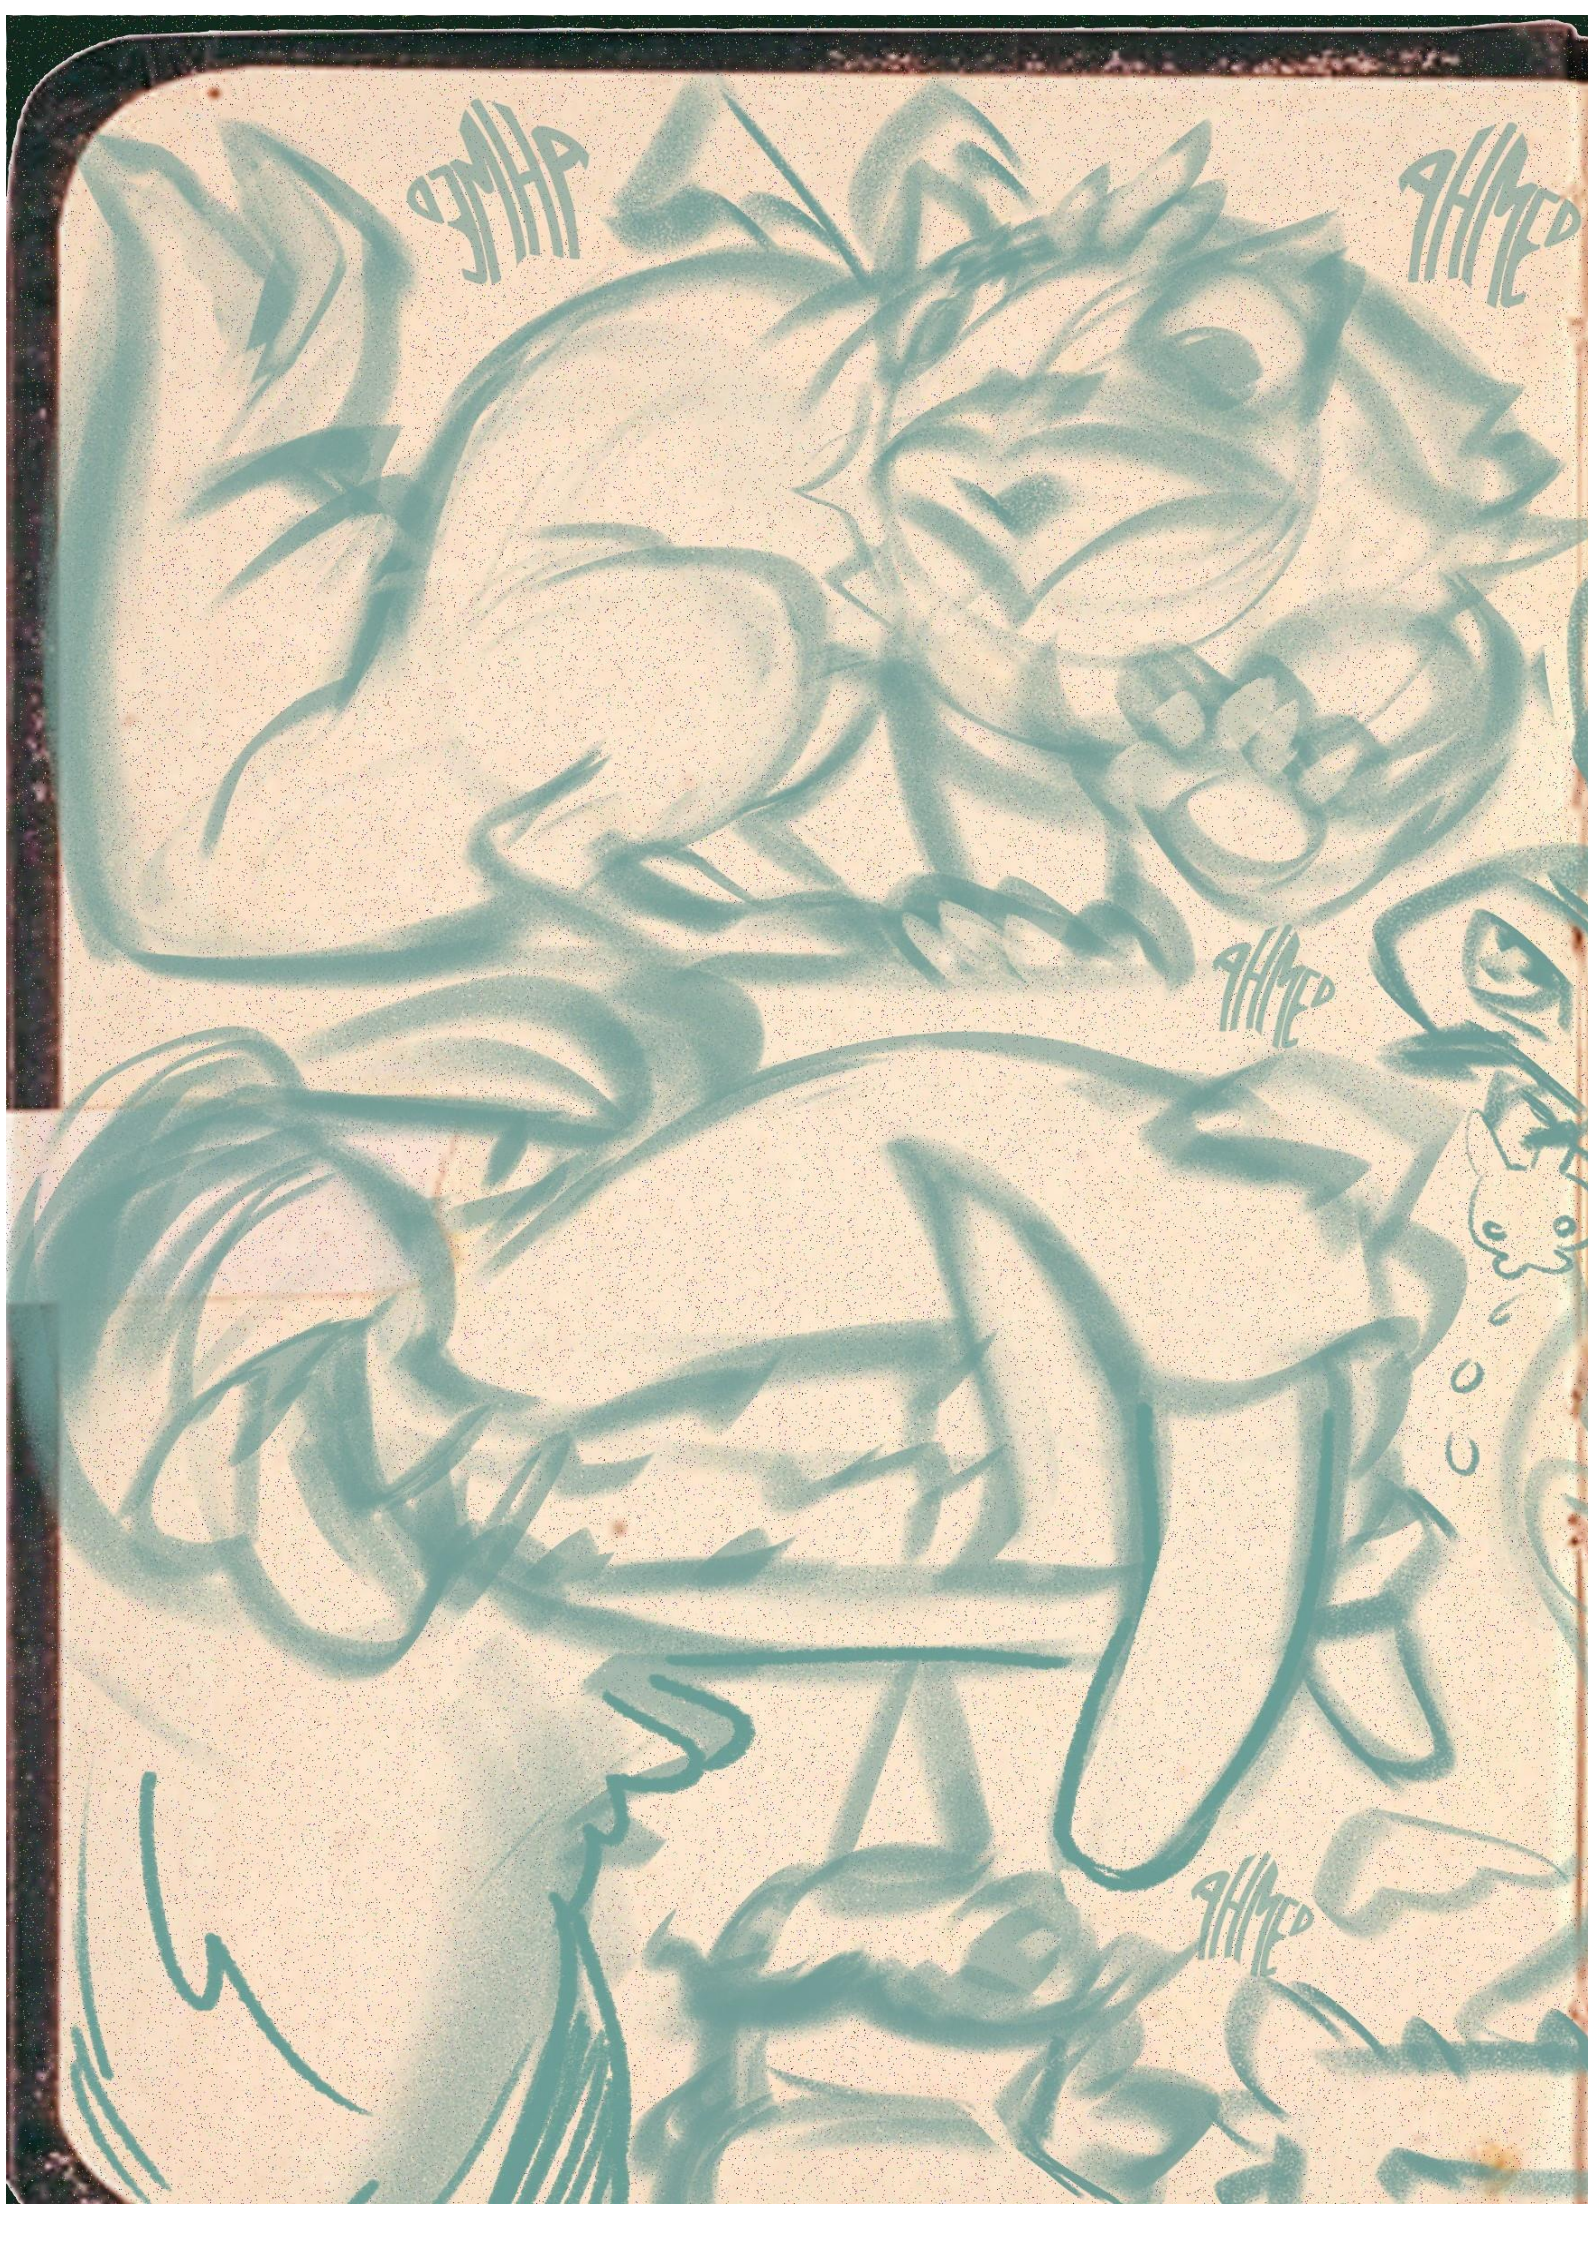

Grown up in a secluded, Japanese-inspired monastery nestled deep within an Aztec-style jungle, Amaya was trained alongside an ascetic order dedicated to one sacred, punishing duty: guarding The Eternal Gate and keeping an ancient evil locked away for eternity.

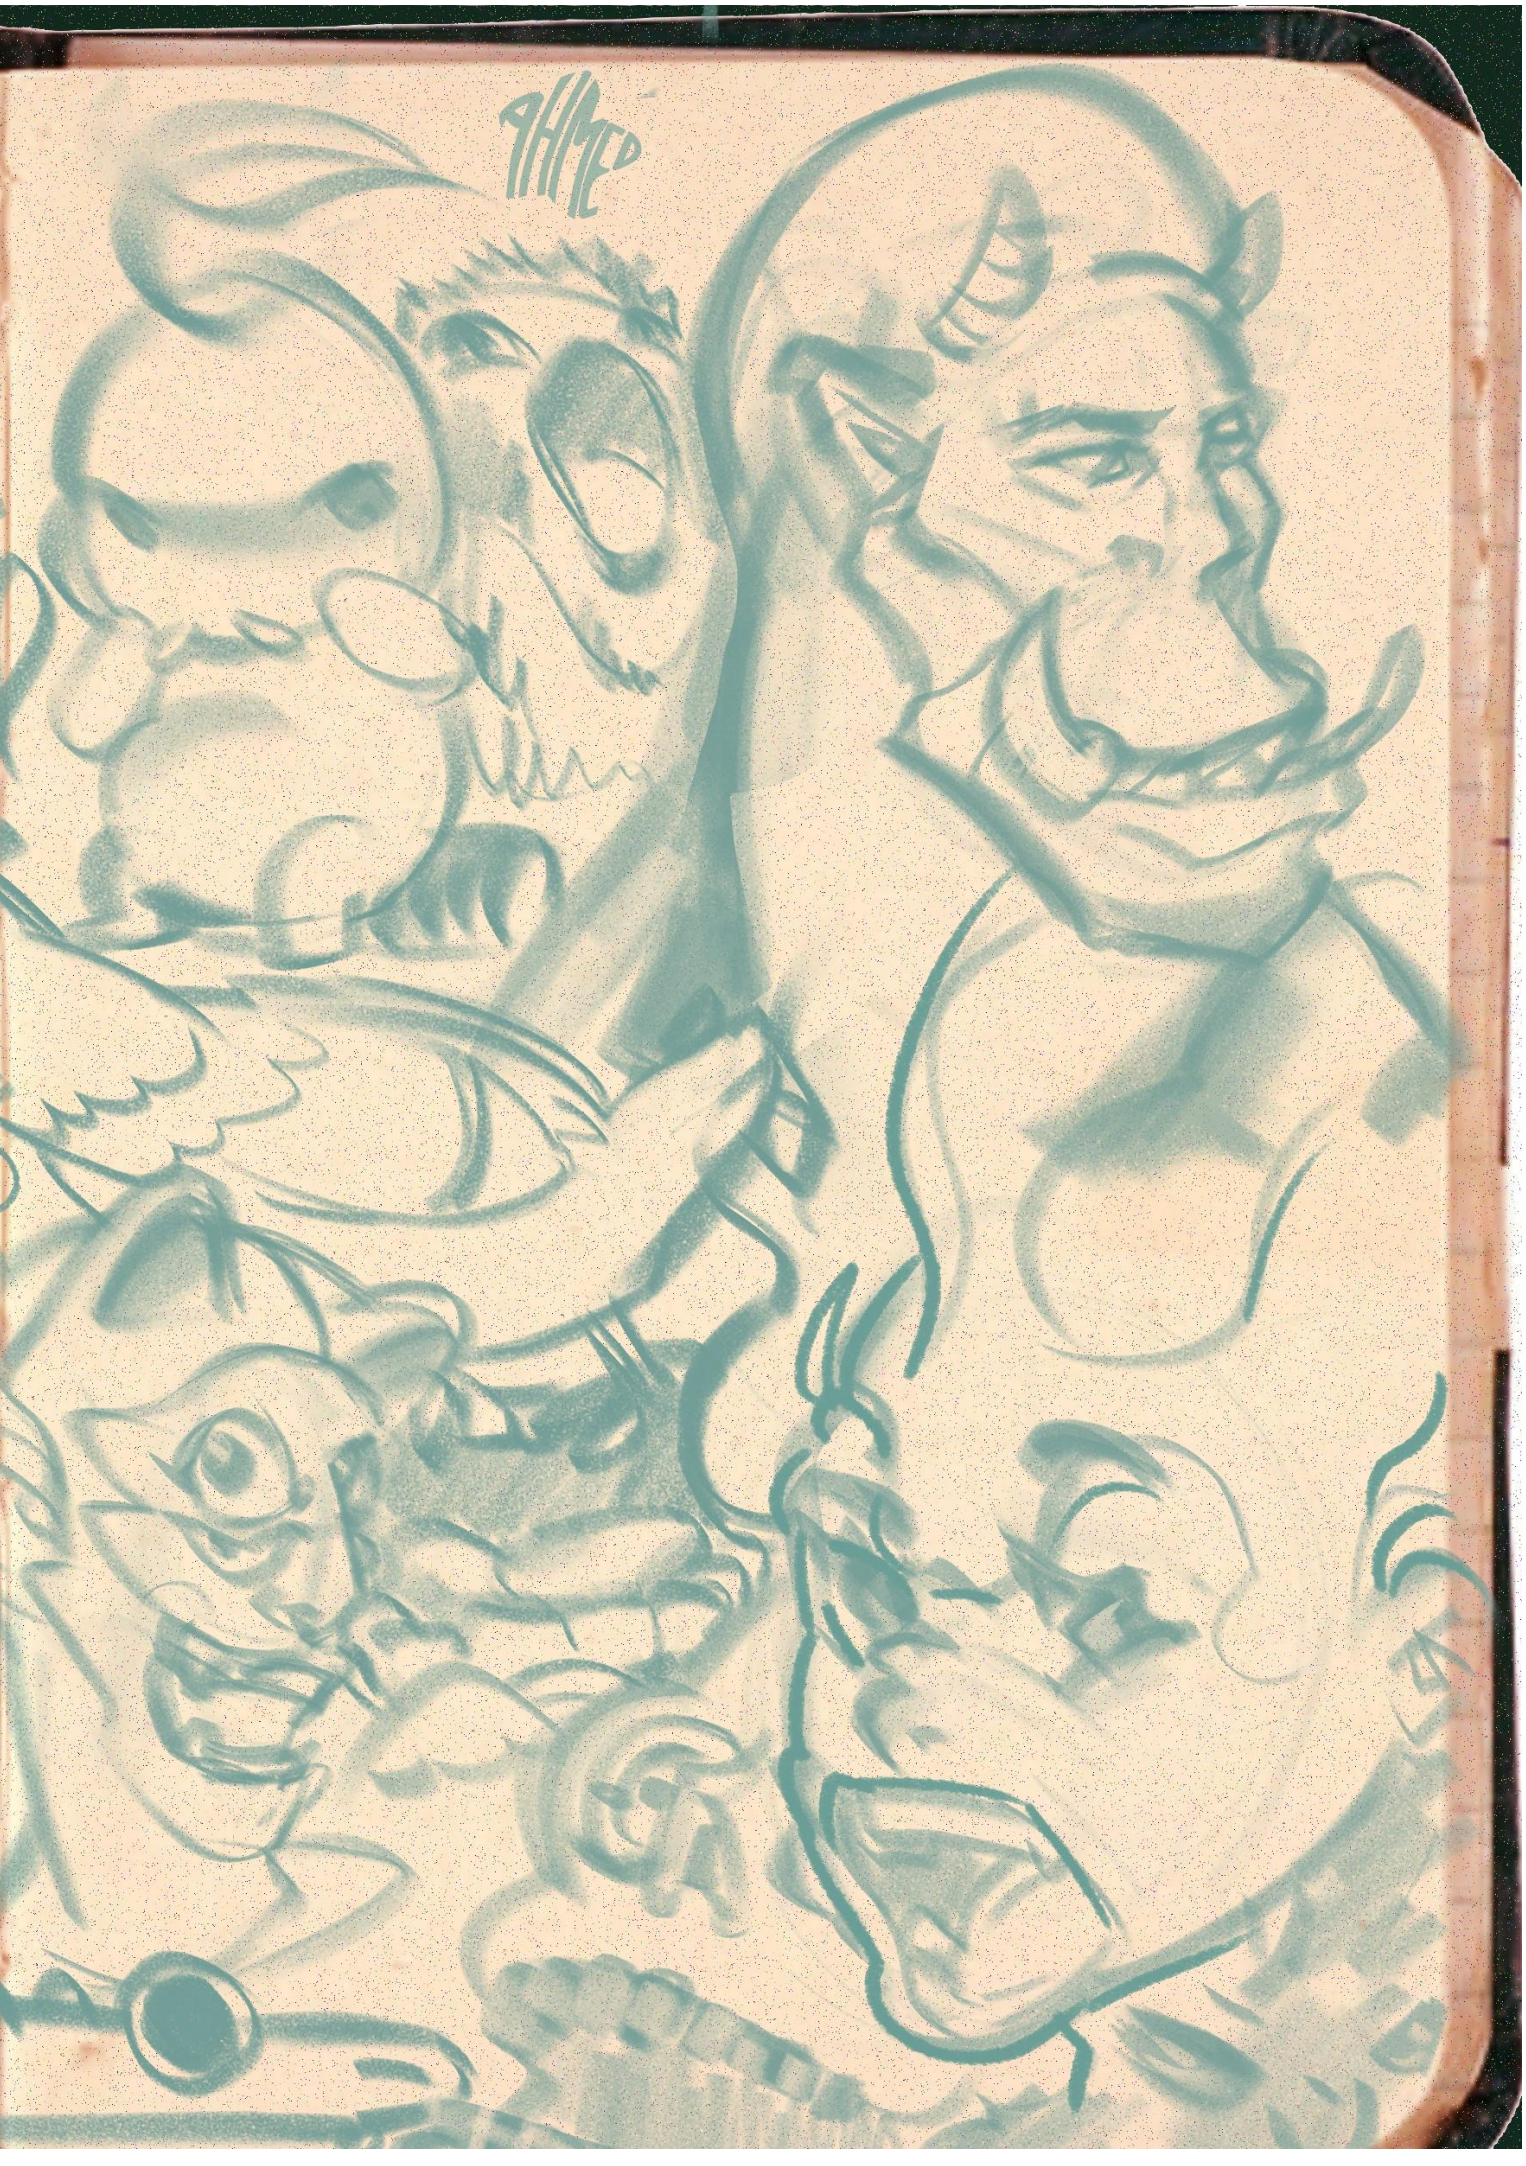

Stoic, disciplined, and razor-athletic, her entire life was built on rigid repetition and selfless vigilance—until the unthinkable happened, and the seal broke. Now, consumed by a fierce guilt and a single-minded obsession, she's out in the world. No longer bound by monastery walls, she’s hunting the escaped horror down, weaponizing her ancestral warding rituals, and ready to drag it kicking and screaming back to its prison.

Inspirations: Maiev Shadowsong meets League’s Karma and Sylas, with a heavy dose of Bruce Lee
